Subject: MICROSOFT SETTLEMENT

It's definitely time to settle the Microsoft case. I felt that the suit was frivolous to begin with and the fact that it has dragged on for so long trying to cripple a company that has done so much just completely angers me.

I think the message this suit sends is 'that if you are great at what you do and make a product better than your competitor then we are going to make you pay.'

I really hope everyone involved can settle this case and move forward.

Sincerely,

Robin L. Lee
